

Illusion of Obstacles

Remember,
You are the only obstacle in your way

Too often we find excuses to justify our missteps instead of taking accountability. Being responsible for our failures should be as rewarding as taking credit for our victories.

Give what you want to receive out of life and always remember, you are the only obstacle in your way. Nothing is impossible and impossible is nothing.

All your obstacles are an elaborate illusion designed to reawaken you to the noblest of truth, that you are not your problems.
