

the Fear of Ignorance

the Fear of Ignorance

In a world of the egotistic
The shameful espionage of powerless knowledge
Grips tightly on the bliss of an empty mind
Grey matter where searching into the abyss does not matter
Blindly following the aimless dog that stops for buried bones
Thought for and told where to march like lemmings
And to what end are answers not revealed
The key that unlocks is the question to the aforementioned
Ignorance. IG-NO-RANCE
Ignoring the rants and raves of truth's stampede
Well of course, only fools know everything
