

never not with you

Never not with you

If I were to stumble out of control
I would entrust my next footstep to your stability

If I could predetermine my every thought
None would come to life without your everlasting presence

If I were to find myself in front of a door
It would be by your hand I'd have it opened

If I were to fall apart
Who else would reassemble me as exquisitely quaint as you?

If I could change just one thing about you
I would leave you be. Perfect

And if you were a flower
I'd admire you from your garden
Picking you would only bring your demise ever so sooner
As time would be kinder if I let you bloom by the season
