

the Blissful Life

the Blissful Lie

Don't be fooled by the hype

Things are really harder than they appear

These award shows are only fuel for the glory

Work done behind the scenes is never that glorious

The novelty on all these materials doesn't last that long

Sooner or later the desired effect will fade

It's never wise to judge a person by the money they acquire

The pathway carved by the footsteps left behind

Those make for a better story

The bright lights give hopelessness to the hopeless

It's so easy to live in the moment

As if all it took was a moment

They say truth is way stranger than fiction

The truth of the matter is that only the truth matters
