

PRISM

I dream in colours

Shades of hues

Abstract

A breeze of illustrious pixels

This is beyond your boom tube

This outshines your light emitting diodes

Dulled only by day time illusions

Brought to life by the darkness that is the night

With my eyes I see the solar mirage

With the all-seeing I am victim to the cimmerician metaphysical

Fear not the poltergeist that accompanies the unknown

It's all due to lack of comprehension that trepidation grips

Mystery without misery

Actuation without agitation

Intent without insecurity

Dream in colours
