

We are Patriarchs

We are simple creatures with appetite for the flesh
We derive thought from both poles
We are born of the molecular structure of sentient beings
We are strong. We are fearless
We thrive in logic though at times acting as double edged
We take pride in honor and glory
We wrestle amongst ourselves for dominance
We crave the title of Alpha-male
We provide. We serve. We protect
We are nurtured by the cold and hardened by responsibility
We lead
We sit at the head of all tables
We chase perfection that lies within paragons
We are Men amongst men
We are Patriarchs
