

even in the DARK

even in the DARK

We all live in bubbles
We all see life from our own eyes
What surrounds us makes us
What makes us surrounds us
We are the company we keep We are the tribulations we fear facing
We give strength to the things we hate
We give embrace to all that we love
We are born into bondage
We are the cards we are dealt
We are the things we are amused by Big and small

And for as long as we supersede the superficial, we will soon become the happiness that exists in even the gravest of circumstances

